

- Terminology should be built to match pre-defined use cases.
- Need to review if we are going in the right direction to do this.

Use case 1

As a FAIR curriculum designer I have a series of texts (either course specifications or instructor skill lists) and I want to see how this overlaps with the FAIR competency framework. I upload each of the texts and perform a word match (either exact terms or synonyms) with the terms within the terminology.